Fabric paints, spontaneous brushstrokes and a creative atelier where fashion and art meet: this experience invites you to personalize a sage-colored shirt, transforming it into a unique, wearable piece. A contemporary workshop designed to express creativity, personal style, and manual skills in a relaxed and stimulating artistic environment.

Guided by a professional artist, you will work with specific fabric paints, learning to decorate your shirt through marks, compositions, and details inspired by your personal imagination. You can also bring your own garment to customize, experimenting with art on fabric in a free, intuitive, and accessible way, even for those without previous experience.

A creative and authentic experience designed for those who want to transform a simple garment into something expressive, personal, and impossible to replicate twice.

What makes this experience special

- Personalization of a sage-colored shirt included in the workshop
- Fabric painting techniques guided by a professional artist
- Opportunity to also decorate your own garment
- Use of professional materials designed to last
- Creative atmosphere within an artist's studio in Milan
- An experience accessible even to beginners
