In the heart of Milan, this ceramic workshop introduces you to the world of clay through a creative, relaxing, and step-by-step guided experience. A first approach to manual ceramic processing where hands, material, and imagination meet in an intimate and contemporary atmosphere.

Guided by Elizabeth and her team, you will create your first clay piece, learning the pinch pot technique, the basics of modeling, and the principles of balance and proportion. During the workshop, you will discover how to work with and decorate your object using professional tools and included materials. The piece will then be professionally fired and ready for pickup within approximately 15 days.

An authentic and creative way to slow down, work with your hands, and discover the pleasure of transforming a simple material into a personal object.
